Welcome to Alchemical Visions. The website is brand new as of today, and I am pleased to welcome you to this new online space for psychic readings, astrology, spiritual guidance, and related services.

The website is still being developed, so some links may not yet work correctly and some sections may be incomplete or temporarily unavailable. I expect to complete the primary website construction by September 10, 2026. Until then, please consider the site a work in progress.

The live-reading portal is currently powered by Premium.chat, a third-party service that provides the chat infrastructure and secure payment processing for online readings.

Depending on your account status, Premium.chat may require you to visit Premium.chat first, create an account, and add a financial source to your account before you can begin a paid chat session. Any account setup and payment requirements are handled through Premium.chat's secure payment system.

The lantern button in the bottom-right corner of the website indicates whether I am currently online and available for live readings.

If you are having trouble catching me online, you can click Book Appointment to schedule a specific time to meet with me through the portal.

I am currently building my own private chat service for Alchemical Visions. I expect to have my own private chat, video, and audio program operating within the portal by approximately mid-October 2026.

This will be an excellent improvement for everyone. Once the service is operating without a third-party middleman taking a portion of the earnings from readings, I expect that I will eventually be able to offer readings at more affordable prices while continuing to provide a high-quality experience.

The website has been designed to accommodate both desktop and mobile devices.

You can use the following sections to explore the available services:

Services: Browse the available types of readings.Astrology Reports: Review the available astrology reports and their descriptions.Place an Order: Order an astrology report.Book Appointment: Schedule a specific time to meet with me through the portal if you are having difficulty finding an available online session.Schedule: View my current online schedule.

My current online schedule is updated regularly, and I am working to follow it as reliably as possible. Please check the Schedule section for the most current information.

Also, please note that for astrology reports, please have the following information ready for every individual the report will concern:

Full birth dateExact or approximate birth timeBirth location, including city, state or region, and country

If you do not know the person's birth time, please review the Birth Time Rectification listing for a possible solution.

You can follow Alchemical Visions on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter by using the social-media icons in the bottom-right corner of the website.

If you have any suggestions or requests for the website, please contact me. I welcome thoughtful feedback and would be happy to hear what would make the site more useful and convenient for you.

Thank you for visiting and supporting the development of Alchemical Visions. I look forward to connecting with you.

<h1>About Natalie</h1>

A Life Guided by Curiosity, Intuition & the Search for Meaning

Natalie Holcomb, née Davis, was born in Northampton, Massachusetts, in 1986. At the age of three, she moved with her family to Northern California, spending a year in Bonny Doon before eventually making Davis, California, her childhood home.

Her education took an unconventional path from the beginning. Natalie attended school in Davis from Pre-K through tenth grade before choosing to accelerate her education by successfully completing California's high-school proficiency examination. Rather than following a traditional academic trajectory, she went on to explore a broad range of subjects at Cabrillo College in Santa Cruz. Her studies encompassed an eclectic combination of disciplines, with particular emphasis on physical anthropology, sociology, art history, and French.

Although she enjoyed learning, Natalie eventually realized that the conventional academic path she was following did not feel like her true calling. She returned to Davis and spent the following several years working a variety of jobs while giving herself the freedom to search for something more meaningful.

Throughout her life, she had maintained a fascination with tarot, oracle cards, astrology, metaphysics, and the mysteries of human experience. What had begun as personal curiosity gradually became something much deeper.

<h2>The Beginning of a Calling</h2>

In 2014, Natalie traveled to San Jose, California, to attend an in-person Certified Advanced Angel Tarot & Oracle Card Course taught by Doreen Virtue. That experience became a significant turning point.

What had previously been a collection of personal interests suddenly began to take shape as a genuine spiritual vocation. From that point forward, Natalie devoted the next seven years to intensive study of metaphysics, spiritual traditions, energy work, healing modalities, tarot, oracle systems, and other forms of divination.

During this period, she earned more than fifteen professional certifications and registrations, including:

<ul class="certificate-list">

Certified Crystal Practitioner

- Certified Advanced Crystal Master
- Certified Angel Therapy Practitioner
- Certified Angel Practitioner
- Certified Angel Card Reader
- Certified Advanced Angel Tarot & Oracle Card Reader
- Certified Past Life Healer
- Certified Angelic Medium
- Certified Archangel Life Coach
- Certified Fairyologist
- Certified Indigo Awareness Studies Practitioner
- Certified Realm Reader
- Certified Reiki Level I / Shoden
- Certified Reiki Level II / Okuden
- Certified Reiki Master / Level III / Shinpiden
- Registered Metaphysical Practitioner
- Registered Metaphysical Provider
- Registered Healer

Rather than viewing these disciplines as isolated practices, Natalie developed an integrative approach that draws from multiple systems of symbolism, intuition, energy work, and spiritual reflection.

<h2>A Career in Online Psychic Readings</h2>

Since beginning her professional practice, Natalie has worked with numerous online psychic-reading platforms and has provided readings to hundreds of clients throughout the English-speaking world.

She has also operated independently, offering private-distance Reiki attunements and crystal-healing sessions.

Working with clients from such a wide range of backgrounds taught Natalie something she considers central to her practice: people rarely seek a reading simply because they want to know the future. More often, they are standing at a crossroads—trying to understand a relationship, make sense of a difficult transition, find direction, or simply hear their own intuition more clearly.

That human element remains one of the things she values most about this work.

<h2>Why Alchemical Visions?</h2>

After years of working through third-party psychic platforms, Natalie decided to create something of her own.

Alchemical Visions was born from a desire to build an independent space where she could continue offering intuitive services while maintaining greater freedom over the way she works and connects with her clients.

The online psychic industry can be difficult for independent practitioners. Many platforms operate on commission structures that make sustaining a livelihood challenging, while others impose demanding schedules and retain broad discretion over a practitioner's continued access to their platform.

Natalie wanted something different.

She wanted a practice built around independence, authenticity, flexibility, and direct connection with the people who seek her services.

Alchemical Visions is therefore more than simply another place to purchase a psychic reading. It is Natalie's personal platform—a space where her many years of study and experience can come together under one roof.

<h2>Life Beyond the Cards</h2>

Natalie's interests have never been limited to metaphysics.

Her academic background in anthropology, sociology, art history, and languages reflects a lifelong fascination with people, culture, history, symbolism, and the many ways human beings attempt to understand the world around them.

Today, she is continuing her education at UC Davis, where she is studying to become a paralegal. She has also recently earned her California Notary Public commission, adding yet another practical discipline to an already unconventional collection of pursuits.

Natalie is also an author. Her fiction work, The Monas Hieroglyph, is published under the name Natalie D. Holcomb.

For her, intellectual curiosity and spiritual curiosity have never been opposites. Both come from the same place: a desire to ask questions, investigate possibilities, and look beneath the surface of things.

<h2>Family</h2>

In 2023, Natalie began a new chapter of her life when she and her life partner, Connor Holcomb, came together.

Their family grew with the birth of their daughter, Avalon Miriam, on February 18, 2024—an Aquarius who brought an entirely new dimension to their lives.

On May 23, 2026, they welcomed their son, Calix, a Gemini.

Today, Natalie considers motherhood and family life among her greatest blessings. Between raising two young children, continuing her education, writing, building her business, and pursuing her many interests, life is certainly full—but she remains grateful for the opportunity to continue doing work that has been meaningful to her for so many years.

<h2>Welcome to Alchemical Visions</h2>

After an unconventional journey through academia, metaphysics, energy work, divination, entrepreneurship, writing, and now the legal field, Natalie continues to believe that life rarely unfolds according to the map we originally imagined.

Sometimes the path appears only after we stop forcing ourselves to follow the wrong one.

Alchemical Visions is Natalie's invitation to explore that path together.

Whether you are looking for perspective, reassurance, insight into a relationship, guidance through a transition, or simply a different way of looking at the questions occupying your mind, she is honored that you have chosen to visit.

Thank you for being here—and welcome to Alchemical Visions.

<section class="content-section" data-section="services" hidden>

<h1>Services</h1>

<article class="article-copy services-copy">

You do not need to know anything about tarot, oracle cards, or other card-reading systems to book a reading. You can simply tell me what you would like to ask about, and I can select the cards, deck, and spread that are appropriate for your question.

If you are already familiar with card reading and have preferences, you can also make those choices yourself.

You may choose:

A modality — the type of card system used, such as tarot, oracle cards, angel cards, or Lenormand.A deck — the specific deck of cards used for your reading.A spread — the arrangement of cards and the meaning assigned to each card position.

You are welcome to choose one, two, or all three. You can also leave all of the choices to me.

A modality refers to the type of card-reading system being used. The main systems available through Alchemical Visions are Tarot, Oracle Cards, Angel Cards, and Lenormand.

These systems differ in their structure, symbolism, and traditional methods of interpretation.

If you have never used cards before, you do not need to decide which system is appropriate. Tell me what you want to explore and I can recommend one.

Tarot is a structured 78-card system consisting of the Major Arcana and Minor Arcana.

The Major Arcana contains 22 cards and generally represents major themes, circumstances, influences, and stages of development. The Minor Arcana contains 56 cards divided into four suits and is commonly used to examine more specific situations, activities, thoughts, emotions, and circumstances.

Tarot can be used for questions about relationships, work, decisions, personal circumstances, future possibilities, and many other subjects.

Different tarot decks may use different artwork and interpretations while following the basic structure of tarot.

<h2>Rider-Waite-Smith Tarot</h2>

The Rider-Waite-Smith system is one of the most widely recognized tarot traditions. Its illustrated Minor Arcana make it particularly accessible for visual interpretation and have influenced many modern tarot decks.

If you are familiar with traditional tarot imagery, a Rider-Waite-Smith-based deck may be a good choice.

<h2>Crowley / Thoth Tarot</h2>

The Thoth Tarot, created by Aleister Crowley and illustrated by Lady Frieda Harris, uses a different system of imagery and symbolism from Rider-Waite-Smith.

It incorporates ceremonial, astrological, elemental, numerological, and other esoteric correspondences.

Clients who specifically prefer the Thoth tradition can request it.

Oracle cards are not based on one standardized card structure.

Each oracle deck is created around its own subject, artwork, symbolism, and interpretation system. A deck might contain cards about relationships, animals, spirituality, personal development, mythology, astrology, nature, or another specific theme.

Oracle decks can contain different numbers of cards and may use written messages, keywords, illustrations, or symbolic images.

Because every oracle deck is different, the deck itself is an important part of the reading.

If you have a particular oracle deck you like, you can request it. If you do not have a preference, I can choose one based on your question.

Angel cards are generally a type of oracle card focused on angels, spiritual guidance, encouragement, protection, and related themes.

These decks vary considerably. Some emphasize specific angelic traditions, while others focus more broadly on messages of encouragement, spiritual reflection, and personal guidance.

Angel cards can be requested when you specifically want this type of imagery and subject matter included in your reading.

You do not need to follow a particular religious or spiritual tradition to request an angel-card reading.

Lenormand is a card system traditionally consisting of 36 cards.

The cards use recognizable symbols such as the Rider, Clover, Ship, House, Tree, Clouds, Heart, Ring, Key, and others.

Lenormand is generally read by considering the relationships between cards rather than interpreting every card independently. The meaning of one card can be modified or clarified by the cards next to it.

This makes Lenormand particularly useful for readings where the interaction between different people, circumstances, events, or influences is important.

Lenormand is structurally different from tarot, so a Lenormand reading may feel quite different from a tarot reading even when the same question is being asked.

Gypsy cards are another traditional style of fortune-telling cards associated with European cartomancy. They typically use straightforward pictorial symbols representing people, relationships, circumstances, events, emotions, opportunities, difficulties, and other areas of everyday life.

Unlike tarot, Gypsy cards do not follow the Major Arcana and Minor Arcana structure. Their imagery is generally more direct and situational, with individual cards often representing recognizable people, events, conditions, or circumstances.

Gypsy cards may be read individually or in combinations, with surrounding cards helping to establish context and provide additional information about the situation being examined.

The term Gypsy cards can refer to several different styles of traditional fortune-telling decks, so the artwork, number of cards, and specific meanings can vary depending on the deck.

If you specifically want a Lenormand or Gypsy-card reading, you can request it when booking your reading.

There are many different decks available within each modality.

Because there are too many decks in my collection to display an individual photograph of every one on this page, I will provide lists organized by category instead.

You can also search for the decks on Amazon if you would like to see their artwork or learn more about them.

The available deck lists will be organized into four categories:

Requesting a Specific Deck

If you would like a reading performed with a particular deck that is not listed, you are welcome to ask whether I have it.

I have a large collection of decks, and it is difficult to keep a completely accurate list of everything currently available.

If I do not have the deck you want, you can also suggest a specific deck for me to acquire.

A photograph showing a variety of tarot and oracle cards laid out on a surface, illustrating different card spreads used for readings.

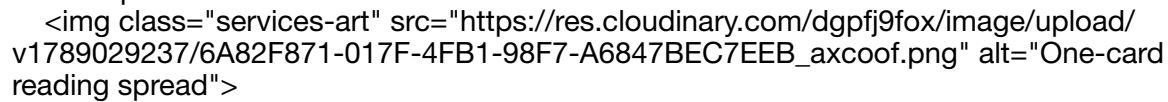

A spread is the arrangement of cards used for a reading.

Each position in a spread has a specific purpose. For example, one position might represent the past while another represents the present or future. Larger spreads allow more aspects of a question to be examined.

You do not need to choose a spread. I can select one based on your question.

If you have a preferred spread, however, you can request it.

The spreads below are organized from the fewest cards to the greatest number of cards.

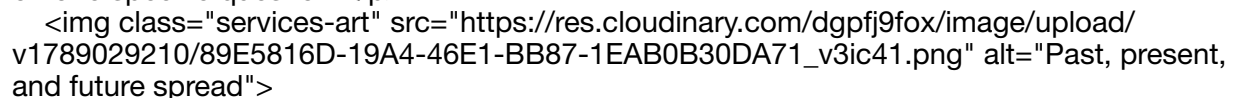

A photograph showing a single tarot card placed in the center of a spread, representing a one-card reading.

The one-card reading provides one focused answer or point of consideration.

Card 1 — Central Answer

Represents the primary theme, influence, or information related to your question.

This is the simplest spread and is appropriate when you want a concise reading focused on one specific question.

A photograph showing three tarot cards laid out horizontally, representing a spread for past, present, and future.

This spread examines a situation across three time-related positions.

Card 1 — Past

Represents past circumstances or influences that contributed to the current situation.

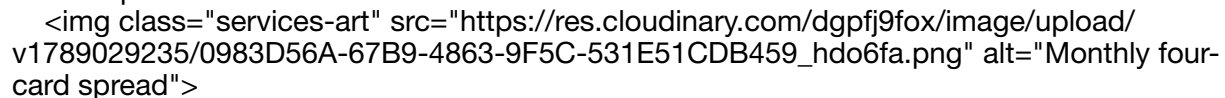

Card 2 — Present

Represents the current circumstances, influences, and conditions surrounding the question.

Card 3 — Future

Represents the likely direction of the situation based on the current circumstances.

This spread provides a straightforward overview without requiring a large number of cards.

A photograph showing four tarot cards laid out in a 2x2 grid, representing a spread for a monthly overview.

This spread divides the month into four sections.

Card 1 — Beginning of the Month

Represents the circumstances and primary themes at the beginning of the month.

Card 2 — Early Middle of the Month

Represents developments occurring during the early-to-middle portion of the month.

Card 3 — Late Middle of the Month

Represents developments and influences during the later middle portion of the month.

<h3>Card 4 — End of the Month</h3>Represents the circumstances and primary themes toward the end of the month.

This spread is designed to provide a general overview of the month rather than predict one specific event.

This spread examines four different areas of a situation using the traditional four elements.

<h3>Card 1 — Earth</h3>Represents practical matters, material circumstances, stability, finances, resources, and physical conditions.

<h3>Card 2 — Air</h3>Represents thoughts, communication, information, decisions, reasoning, and mental activity.

<h3>Card 3 — Fire</h3>Represents action, motivation, ambition, creativity, passion, and energy.

<h3>Card 4 — Water</h3>Represents emotions, relationships, intuition, sensitivity, and emotional circumstances.

This spread can be used to identify which areas of a situation are stable and which may require attention.

This spread is designed for questions where you want guidance about how to approach a situation.

<h3>Card 1 — Current Situation</h3>Represents the circumstances surrounding the question.

<h3>Card 2 — Main Challenge</h3>Represents the primary difficulty or obstacle.

<h3>Card 3 — Hidden or Overlooked Factor</h3>Represents information or an influence that may not currently be obvious.

<h3>Card 4 — Recommended Approach</h3>Represents an action, attitude, or approach worth considering.

<h3>Card 5 — Potential Result</h3>Represents the direction the situation may take if the current circumstances and recommended approach continue.

This spread examines the dynamics between two people.

It can be used for romantic relationships as well as friendships, family relationships, work relationships, or other interpersonal situations.

<h3>Card 1 — Your Position</h3>Represents your feelings, perspective, and role in the relationship.

<h3>Card 2 — Their Position</h3>Represents the other person's apparent feelings, perspective, and role.

<h3>Card 3 — What Connects You</h3>Represents the primary bond, attraction, shared interest, or circumstance connecting you.

<h3>Card 4 — Source of Conflict</h3>Represents a disagreement, obstacle, difference, or other source of tension.

<h3>Card 5 — What the Relationship Needs</h3>Represents something that may help improve, clarify, or strengthen the relationship.

<h3>Card 6 — Potential Direction</h3>Represents the direction the relationship may take based on its current dynamics.

This spread compares two different options or courses of action.Four cards are assigned to each choice.

<h2>Choice A</h2><h3>Card 1 — Current Situation</h3>Represents the circumstances surrounding Choice A.<h3>Card 2 — Advantages</h3>Represents potential benefits of Choice A.<h3>Card 3 — Challenges</h3>Represents potential difficulties associated with Choice A.<h3>Card 4 — Potential Direction</h3>Represents where Choice A may lead.

<h2>Choice B</h2><h3>Card 5 — Current Situation</h3>Represents the circumstances surrounding Choice B.<h3>Card 6 — Advantages</h3>Represents potential benefits of Choice B.<h3>Card 7 — Challenges</h3>Represents potential difficulties associated with Choice B.<h3>Card 8 — Potential Direction</h3>Represents where Choice B may lead.

The purpose of this spread is to compare the two options rather than simply label one as “right” and the other as “wrong.”

The Celtic Cross is a larger spread designed to examine a question from multiple perspectives.

<h3>Card 1 — Present Situation</h3>Represents the central circumstances surrounding the question.<h3>Card 2 — Crossing Influence</h3>Represents an influence that is helping, challenging, or complicating the situation.<h3>Card 3 — Foundation</h3>Represents the underlying circumstances upon which the situation is built.<h3>Card 4 — Recent Past</h3>Represents a recent influence that continues to affect the situation.<h3>Card 5 — Conscious Influence</h3>Represents what you are consciously thinking about, expecting, wanting, or working toward.<h3>Card 6 — Near Future</h3>Represents developments that may occur in the near future.<h3>Card 7 — Your Position</h3>Represents your attitude, role, or approach to the situation.<h3>Card 8 — Outside Influences</h3>Represents other people or circumstances affecting the situation.<h3>Card 9 — Hopes & Fears</h3>Represents expectations, concerns, desires, and fears connected to the question.<h3>Card 10 — Potential Outcome</h3>Represents the direction the situation may take based on the influences shown throughout the spread.

The Twelve Card Yearly Forecast uses one card for each month of the year.

<h3>Card 1 — January</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding January.<h3>Card 2 — February</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding February.<h3>Card 3 — March</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding March.<h3>Card 4 — April</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding April.<h3>Card 5 — May</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding May.<h3>Card 6 — June</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding June.<h3>Card 7 — July</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding July.<h3>Card 8 — August</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding August.<h3>Card 9 — September</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding September.<h3>Card 10 — October</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding October.<h3>Card 11 — November</h3>Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding November.<h3>Card

12 — December

Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding December.

This spread provides a general month-by-month overview rather than a guarantee that specific events will occur during particular months.

Have a Specific Deck or Spread in Mind?

You are welcome to ask about a deck even if you do not see it listed on this page. My collection is large, and the list cannot always account for every deck I have available.

If you have a particular deck you would like used, ask me.

If I do not currently have it, you can also suggest a deck for me to acquire.

If you have a favorite spread that is not listed here, you can ask about that as well. I can let you know whether it is something I currently offer or whether another spread would be better suited to your question.

Astrology Reports

<article class="article-copy astrology-copy">

Astrology reports are detailed, individually prepared interpretations of an astrological chart. A chart is the astronomical map calculated for a particular date, time, and place; the report is the process of actually interpreting that map and putting the different pieces together into something understandable.

An astrology chart contains considerably more information than a Sun sign or a short horoscope. The positions of the planets, the signs they occupy, the houses they fall into, the angles of the chart, and the geometric relationships between planets all contribute to the interpretation. The purpose of a full report is to examine those pieces together rather than reducing someone to a few generic descriptions.

The sample below shows what that means visually:

The large circular wheel is the actual astrological chart. Around the outside is the zodiac, divided into the twelve signs. Inside it are the twelve houses, numbered 1 through 12. The planetary glyphs are positioned according to their actual calculated locations at the specified birth time and place. The colored lines crossing the center represent aspects—the angular relationships between planets and other important points.

The chart is not merely decorative. It is the map from which the written interpretation is developed.

For example, the sample identifies the Sun at 17°22' Sagittarius, the Moon at 4°32' Aries, Mercury at 29°37' Scorpio, Venus at 9°18' Scorpio, Mars at 9°18' Pisces, Jupiter at 14°36' Pisces, Saturn at 12°48' Sagittarius, Uranus at 22°15' Sagittarius, Neptune at 4°51' Capricorn, Pluto at 8°48' Scorpio, the North Node at 17°40' Aries, and Chiron at 18°41' Gemini.

Those positions do not exist independently of one another. The interpretation asks questions such as: What houses do those planets occupy? Which planets are making close aspects to one another? Which planets are connected to the Ascendant or Midheaven? Are there concentrations in particular signs or houses? Which configurations repeat or reinforce the same theme?

The center of the chart also identifies the four major angles: the Ascendant, Descendant, Midheaven, and Imum Coeli. In the sample, the Ascendant is 18°44' Aries, the Descendant is 18°44' Libra, the Midheaven is 9°42' Capricorn, and the Imum Coeli is 9°42' Cancer.

The houses and signs are then listed separately so that the exact house structure can be read without having to estimate it from the wheel. The sample shows Aries on the 1st House, Taurus on the 2nd, Gemini on the 3rd, Cancer on the 4th, Leo on the 5th, Virgo on the 6th, Libra on the 7th, Scorpio on the 8th, Sagittarius on the 9th, Capricorn on the 10th, Aquarius on the 11th, and Pisces on the 12th.

The chart also includes the underlying chart data: the name, birth date, birth time, birth location, time zone, and whether Daylight Saving Time was observed. It records the current date, time, and location when those are relevant to the calculation. That information is important because astrology calculations depend upon an exact moment and geographical location.

At the bottom is an aspect list. This translates the geometric relationships visible as lines inside the wheel into readable terms—for example, a sextile between Chiron and the Ascendant, a square between the Moon and Neptune, a conjunction involving Venus and Pluto, a trine involving Mars and the Midheaven, or an opposition involving the Sun and Chiron. The aspect list allows the written report to examine those relationships precisely rather than relying on visual estimation.

This is the kind of information that the written report works from. The finished report takes the raw astronomical calculations and interprets them in context.

A free automated astrology website might see “Moon in Aries” and retrieve a paragraph about Moon in Aries. It may then see “Venus in Scorpio” and retrieve another paragraph about Venus in Scorpio. Another person with exactly those placements could receive essentially the same paragraphs.

That is not how these reports are written.

Each report is individually developed from the actual chart being examined. The placements are considered in relation to the rest of the horoscope, including houses, angles, aspects, planetary relationships, chart emphasis, and other relevant factors. The interpretation is therefore specific to the individual chart rather than being assembled from a collection of prewritten paragraphs.

The reports are also substantial visual documents. They can consist of many pages combining written interpretation, astrology charts, diagrams, illustrations, and other artwork. Some pages are designed as complete visual pieces that can be suitable for framing. The visual material is integrated with the astrology rather than being added simply to make an otherwise ordinary text document look attractive.

Some of the artwork is created with AI assistance. The astrological analysis itself is individually interpreted and written by a real astrologer. The reports are not produced by an automated horoscope generator, and they are not intended to be vague, interchangeable descriptions that could apply to virtually anyone. The difference comes from the amount of individual interpretation involved.

<h2>Principal Chart Symbols</h2>

A simple key to the principal symbols used throughout the charts is:

- ☉ Sun — identity, vitality, self-expression☾ Moon — emotions, instincts, inner life☿ Mercury — thought, communication, perception♀ Venus — affection, attraction, values, aesthetics♂ Mars — action, desire, assertion, drive♃ Jupiter — expansion, growth, belief, opportunity♄ Saturn — responsibility, structure, limitation, discipline♅ Uranus — disruption, independence, innovation, change♆ Neptune — imagination, spirituality, ideals, dissolution♇ Pluto — transformation, power, intensity, regeneration♊ North Node — developmental direction and evolutionary themes

South Node — established patterns and familiar tendencies

Chiron — vulnerability, wounding, teaching and healing

The Twelve Zodiac Signs

- Aries — fire, cardinal

- Taurus — earth, fixed
- Gemini — air, mutable

- Cancer — water, cardinal
- Leo — fire, fixed

- Virgo — earth, mutable
- Libra — air, cardinal

- Scorpio — water, fixed
- Sagittarius — fire, mutable

- Capricorn — earth, cardinal
- Aquarius — air, fixed

- Pisces — water, mutable

The Four Primary Chart Angles

- ASC — Ascendant, the eastern horizon and beginning of the 1st House
- DSC — Descendant, opposite the Ascendant and associated with the 7th House

- MC — Midheaven, the highest point of the chart and beginning of the 10th House
- IC — Imum Coeli, opposite the Midheaven and associated with the 4th House

Common Aspect Symbols

- Conjunction — 0°

- Sextile — 60°
- Square — 90°

- Trine — 120°
- Opposition — 180°

The exact symbols may vary slightly depending upon the chart software or typeface being used, but these are the basic glyphs and relationships encountered throughout the reports.

Preparation, Delivery, and Required Information

Orders are delivered as PDF files by email. Because these are individually written and designed reports rather than instant automated products, they require time to prepare. Standard reports require a minimum of approximately 3–7 days for delivery. The larger reports can require approximately 10 days.

The complete compatibility report is particularly extensive. It is effectively the equivalent of several reports combined because it requires a natal analysis for Person A, a natal analysis for Person B, a synastry chart comparing the two people, and a composite chart representing the relationship itself. Each layer must be interpreted in detail before the larger relationship picture can be assembled.

Birth time rectification can potentially take even longer. When someone does not know their exact birth time, there is no reliable time to simply enter into a chart calculator. Instead, the process works backward from the person's life history. Important events are collected and compared against possible birth times to determine which chart produces the strongest correspondence.

A rectification may therefore involve a lengthy interview through Zoom or an extended exchange through email, sometimes requiring several rounds of questions and responses. The amount of information needed varies from person to person.

When ordering a report requiring a natal chart, you will need to provide your birth date, birth time, and birthplace by city, state/province, and country, as well as the applicable time zone and whether Daylight Saving Time was being observed, if known.

This matters because the precise time and location determine the astronomical calculations used to construct the horoscope. A difference in birth time can change the Ascendant and house cusps, and can change the interpretation of planets located near important boundaries.

For reports involving current planetary positions, horary astrology, transits, or other time-sensitive calculations, you will also need to provide the current date, current time, and current location by city, state/province, and country, along with the applicable time zone. The exact moment and location can determine the chart being calculated.

A birth time rectification is specifically intended for someone who does not know their exact birth time, has only an approximate time, or suspects that their recorded birth time may be incorrect. The purpose is to determine the most plausible birth time through comparison with significant events in the person's actual life.

<h2>Available Reports</h2>

Free downloadable samples of each individual product will also be made available soon. These samples will allow prospective clients to actually examine the type of finished report associated with each service before deciding whether to purchase one. The intention is to make it possible to see what the reports contain and what the finished PDF looks like ahead of time rather than asking someone to purchase a product they have never seen.

Because these reports require many hours of individual work spread across several days, the current policy generally does not allow returns or refunds once a report has been completed and delivered. The same basic principle applies to the card-reading services.

The reason for the policy is the nature of the work itself. Once a personalized reading or report has been completed, the hours spent researching, calculating, interpreting, writing, editing, and preparing the finished document cannot be recovered. Once the finished PDF has been sent, there is also no practical way to retrieve the time invested or undo the delivery of the completed copy. The work is therefore treated as a completed personalized service rather than a conventional physical product that can simply be returned.

Providing free samples ahead of purchase is intended to give people an opportunity to examine the work before ordering and make an informed decision about whether the service is appropriate for them.

This is the natal chart format used as a foundation for the written interpretations. The planetary table identifies the exact zodiacal position of each planet and point. The angles establish the four major directional points of the horoscope. The houses show where the signs and planets fall in the areas of life represented by the twelve houses. The aspect list identifies the principal geometric relationships between the chart's components.

The report uses all of this information together. A planet is not interpreted solely because it occupies a particular sign. Its house placement, aspects, relationship to the chart ruler and angles, and position within the larger pattern are also considered.

Birth time rectification examines the possibility that the recorded or remembered birth time is inaccurate. Significant events are used as reference points while different possible birth times are tested against the resulting chart structure.

Because the astrologer needs actual biographical information to do this properly, rectification is more collaborative than most of the other reports. The process may require an interview over Zoom or multiple rounds of correspondence by email.

The six-month transit analysis follows the movement of the planets across a six-month period and examines how those movements interact with the natal chart.

The full natal interpretation examines the birth chart as an interconnected system.

It considers the planets, signs, houses, angles, aspects, chart ruler, concentrations of planetary energy, elemental and modal patterns, and significant configurations. The interpretation is built around how those factors interact rather than simply providing a separate paragraph for every placement.

Horary astrology is based on the chart for the moment a question is asked. Instead of beginning with a birth chart, the analysis begins with the time and location of the question.

The relevant houses and planetary signifiers are identified, and their conditions and relationships are examined in relation to the specific question. Because the moment matters, the exact date, time, and location are required.

A progressed chart examines symbolic development within the natal horoscope over time. Progressions can be used to study longer-term changes in identity, emotional orientation, priorities, relationships, motivation, and other areas of personal development.

The progressed chart is interpreted alongside the natal chart so that changes can be understood against the person's original astrological structure.

The conception timing analysis examines astrological timing surrounding conception and the periods being investigated.

Accurate birth information and precise dates are particularly important for timing work. This is an astrological service and is not intended to diagnose fertility, predict a medical outcome, or replace medical fertility care.

The complete compatibility reading examines two individual charts and then examines the relationship between them.

Person A's natal chart is interpreted, followed by Person B's. The two charts are then compared through synastry, which examines how the planets and points in one person's chart interact with those in the other. A composite chart is then interpreted as a chart representing the relationship itself.

This is why the compatibility report requires considerably more work than a short compatibility reading. It is essentially several substantial analyses brought together into one finished report and may require approximately 10 days for completion.

The cosmic blueprint brings the principal components of a natal horoscope together into a broad interpretation of the chart's overall structure.

Rather than concentrating on one planet or one area of life, it examines recurring patterns, planetary emphasis, houses, signs, angles, aspects, strengths, tensions, and larger themes that emerge when the horoscope is viewed as a whole.

The twin flame and soul mate markers assessment is an optional relationship add-on. It examines multiple astrological indicators traditionally associated with unusually intense, significant, or compelling connections.

The interpretation does not depend upon one particular aspect being labeled a "twin flame" indicator. The relevant interactions are examined together to determine what the overall relationship charts actually show.

The starseed markers assessment is an optional add-on examining astrological placements and patterns that modern esoteric astrology associates with starseed or extraterrestrial/spiritual themes.

These concepts belong to an esoteric astrological framework and cannot scientifically establish extraterrestrial ancestry or origin. The purpose of the report is to examine the relevant symbolism within the individual's chart and explain how those patterns interact with the rest of the horoscope.

The additional 50-asteroid comprehensive analysis expands the chart beyond the traditional planets and major points.

The selected bodies cover themes including relationships, sexuality, motherhood, creativity, independence, justice, transformation, healing, ambition, vulnerability, devotion, luck, conflict, artistic expression, persistence, and recurring life patterns.

The 50 bodies included are:

<ul class="asteroid-list">Ceres — nurturing, motherhood, attachment, loss and renewalPallas — strategy, intelligence, pattern recognition and problem-solvingJuno — commitment, marriage, partnership and equalityVesta — devotion, sacred focus and dedicationHygiea — purification, maintenance and wellbeingPsyche — the soul, psychological sensitivity and profound bondingEros — erotic attraction, desire and creative passionAmor — romantic love, affection and devotionAnteros — reciprocal love and mutual attractionAdonis — beauty, attractiveness and masculine allureAriadne — abandonment, devotion, rescue and finding one's way through complexityCirce — enchantment, transformation, seduction and personal powerDiana — independence, autonomy, instinct and freedom

- Hera — marriage, partnership and expectations surrounding union

- Achilles — vulnerability, courage, exceptional ability and hidden weakness
- Odysseus — journeys, survival, adaptability, strategy and the road home
- Chiron — wounding, vulnerability, teaching and healing
- Panacea — remedies, solutions, healing and the search for what resolves a problem

The asteroid analysis does not assume that every placement deserves equal weight. Particular attention can be given to asteroids forming close aspects to the Sun, Moon, Ascendant, Midheaven, personal planets, chart ruler, or other significant points. This keeps the analysis focused on asteroids that actually contribute something meaningful to the individual chart.

For technical accuracy, Chiron is classified astronomically as a centaur/minor planet rather than an asteroid. It is included because of its established role in modern astrological interpretation; the product is therefore more precisely understood as an analysis of >50 selected asteroids and minor bodies.

Once a report has been completed, an optional post-report appointment can be scheduled for an additional fee. The appointment can take place over Zoom or by phone and provides an opportunity to go through the finished report together, ask questions, and discuss sections that deserve further explanation.

The reports are intentionally created as individual works rather than as instant automated products. The sample pages are intended to make that distinction visible: the chart itself is only the beginning. The finished report takes the astronomical data, examines the relationships within it, and turns that information into a personalized written and visual interpretation.

Welcome to Alchemical Visions. The website is brand new as of today, and I am pleased to welcome you to this new online space for psychic readings, astrology, spiritual guidance, and related services.

The website is still being developed, so some links may not yet work correctly and some sections may be incomplete or temporarily unavailable. I expect to complete the primary website construction by September 10, 2026. Until then, please consider the site a work in progress.

The live-reading portal is currently powered by Premium.chat, a third-party service that provides the chat infrastructure and secure payment processing for online readings.

Depending on your account status, Premium.chat may require you to visit Premium.chat first, create an account, and add a financial source to your account before you can begin a paid chat session. Any account setup and payment requirements are handled through Premium.chat's secure payment system.

The lantern button in the bottom-right corner of the website indicates whether I am currently online and available for live readings.

If you are having trouble catching me online, you can click Book Appointment to schedule a specific time to meet with me through the portal.

I am currently building my own private chat service for Alchemical Visions. I expect to have my own private chat, video, and audio program operating within the portal by approximately mid-October 2026.

This will be an excellent improvement for everyone. Once the service is operating without a third-party middleman taking a portion of the earnings from readings, I expect that I will eventually be able to offer readings at more affordable prices while continuing to provide a high-quality experience.

The website has been designed to accommodate both desktop and mobile devices.

You can use the following sections to explore the available services:

Services: Browse the available types of readings.Astrology Reports: Review the available astrology reports and their descriptions.Place an Order: Order an astrology report.Book Appointment: Schedule a specific time to meet with me through the portal if you are having difficulty finding an available online session.Schedule: View my current online schedule.

My current online schedule is updated regularly, and I am working to follow it as reliably as possible. Please check the Schedule section for the most current information.

Also, please note that for astrology reports, please have the following information ready for every individual the report will concern:

Full birth dateExact or approximate birth timeBirth location, including city, state or region, and country

If you do not know the person's birth time, please review the Birth Time Rectification listing for a possible solution.

You can follow Alchemical Visions on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter by using the social-media icons in the bottom-right corner of the website.

If you have any suggestions or requests for the website, please contact me. I welcome thoughtful feedback and would be happy to hear what would make the site more useful and convenient for you.

Thank you for visiting and supporting the development of Alchemical Visions. I look forward to connecting with you.

<!-- ABOUT CONTENT -->

<section class="content-section" data-section="about" hidden>

<article class="article-copy about-copy">

<h1>About Natalie</h1>

A Life Guided by Curiosity, Intuition & the Search for Meaning

Natalie Holcomb, née Davis, was born in Northampton, Massachusetts, in 1986. At the age of three, she moved with her family to Northern California, spending a year in Bonny Doon before eventually making Davis, California, her childhood home.

Her education took an unconventional path from the beginning. Natalie attended school in Davis from Pre-K through tenth grade before choosing to accelerate her education by successfully completing California's high-school proficiency examination. Rather than following a traditional academic trajectory, she went on to explore a broad range of subjects at Cabrillo College in Santa Cruz. Her studies encompassed an eclectic combination of disciplines, with particular emphasis on physical anthropology, sociology, art history, and French.

Although she enjoyed learning, Natalie eventually realized that the conventional academic path she was following did not feel like her true calling. She returned to Davis and spent the following several years working a variety of jobs while giving herself the freedom to search for something more meaningful.

Throughout her life, she had maintained a fascination with tarot, oracle cards, astrology, metaphysics, and the mysteries of human experience. What had begun as personal curiosity gradually became something much deeper.

<h2>The Beginning of a Calling</h2>

In 2014, Natalie traveled to San Jose, California, to attend an in-person Certified Advanced Angel Tarot & Oracle Card Course taught by Doreen Virtue. That experience became a significant turning point.

What had previously been a collection of personal interests suddenly began to take shape as a genuine spiritual vocation. From that point forward, Natalie devoted the next seven years to intensive study of metaphysics, spiritual traditions, energy work, healing modalities, tarot, oracle systems, and other forms of divination.

During this period, she earned more than fifteen professional certifications and registrations, including:

<ul class="certificate-list">

Certified Crystal Practitioner

Certified Advanced Crystal Master

Certified Angel Therapy Practitioner

Certified Angel Practitioner

Certified Angel Card Reader

Certified Advanced Angel Tarot & Oracle Card Reader

- Certified Past Life Healer
- Certified Angelic Medium
- Certified Archangel Life Coach
- Certified Fairyologist
- Certified Indigo Awareness Studies Practitioner
- Certified Realm Reader
- Certified Reiki Level I / Shoden
- Certified Reiki Level II / Okuden
- Certified Reiki Master / Level III / Shinpiden
- Registered Metaphysical Practitioner
- Registered Metaphysical Provider
- Registered Healer

Rather than viewing these disciplines as isolated practices, Natalie developed an integrative approach that draws from multiple systems of symbolism, intuition, energy work, and spiritual reflection.

<h2>A Career in Online Psychic Readings</h2>

Since beginning her professional practice, Natalie has worked with numerous online psychic-reading platforms and has provided readings to hundreds of clients throughout the English-speaking world.

She has also operated independently, offering private-distance Reiki attunements and crystal-healing sessions.

Working with clients from such a wide range of backgrounds taught Natalie something she considers central to her practice: people rarely seek a reading simply because they want to know the future. More often, they are standing at a crossroads—trying to understand a relationship, make sense of a difficult transition, find direction, or simply hear their own intuition more clearly.

That human element remains one of the things she values most about this work.

<h2>Why Alchemical Visions?</h2>

After years of working through third-party psychic platforms, Natalie decided to create something of her own.

Alchemical Visions was born from a desire to build an independent space where she could continue offering intuitive services while maintaining greater freedom over the way she works and connects with her clients.

The online psychic industry can be difficult for independent practitioners. Many platforms operate on commission structures that make sustaining a livelihood challenging, while others impose demanding schedules and retain broad discretion over a practitioner's continued access to their platform.

Natalie wanted something different.

She wanted a practice built around independence, authenticity, flexibility, and direct connection with the people who seek her services.

Alchemical Visions is therefore more than simply another place to purchase a psychic reading. It is Natalie's personal platform—a space where her many years of study and experience can come together under one roof.

<h2>Life Beyond the Cards</h2>

Natalie's interests have never been limited to metaphysics.

Her academic background in anthropology, sociology, art history, and languages reflects a lifelong fascination with people, culture, history, symbolism, and the many ways human beings attempt to understand the world around them.

Today, she is continuing her education at UC Davis, where she is studying to become a paralegal. She has also recently earned her California Notary Public commission, adding yet another practical discipline to an already unconventional collection of pursuits.

Natalie is also an author. Her fiction work, The Monas Hieroglyph, is published under the name Natalie D. Holcomb.

For her, intellectual curiosity and spiritual curiosity have never been opposites. Both come from the same place: a desire to ask questions, investigate possibilities, and look beneath the surface of things.

<h2>Family</h2>

In 2023, Natalie began a new chapter of her life when she and her life partner, Connor Holcomb, came together.

Their family grew with the birth of their daughter, Avalon Miriam, on February 18, 2024—an Aquarius who brought an entirely new dimension to their lives.

On May 23, 2026, they welcomed their son, Calix, a Gemini.

Today, Natalie considers motherhood and family life among her greatest blessings. Between raising two young children, continuing her education, writing, building her business, and pursuing her many interests, life is certainly full—but she remains grateful for the opportunity to continue doing work that has been meaningful to her for so many years.

<h2>Welcome to Alchemical Visions</h2>

After an unconventional journey through academia, metaphysics, energy work, divination, entrepreneurship, writing, and now the legal field, Natalie continues to believe that life rarely unfolds according to the map we originally imagined.

Sometimes the path appears only after we stop forcing ourselves to follow the wrong one.

Alchemical Visions is Natalie's invitation to explore that path together.

Whether you are looking for perspective, reassurance, insight into a relationship, guidance through a transition, or simply a different way of looking at the questions occupying your mind, she is honored that you have chosen to visit.

Thank you for being here—and welcome to Alchemical Visions.

<h1>Services</h1>
<article class="article-copy services-copy">
  You do not need to know anything about tarot, oracle cards, or other card-reading systems to book a reading. You can simply tell me what you would like to ask about, and I can select the cards, deck, and spread that are appropriate for your question.
  If you are already familiar with card reading and have preferences, you can also make those choices yourself.
  You may choose:
  <ul><li>A modality — the type of card system used, such as tarot, oracle cards, angel cards, or Lenormand.</li><li>A deck — the specific deck of cards used for your reading.</li><li>A spread — the arrangement of cards and the meaning assigned to each card position.</li></ul>
  You are welcome to choose one, two, or all three. You can also leave all of the choices to me.

  A modality refers to the type of card-reading system being used. The main systems available through Alchemical Visions are Tarot, Oracle Cards, Angel Cards, and Lenormand.
  These systems differ in their structure, symbolism, and traditional methods of interpretation.
  If you have never used cards before, you do not need to decide which system is appropriate. Tell me what you want to explore and I can recommend one.

  Tarot is a structured 78-card system consisting of the Major Arcana and Minor Arcana.
  The Major Arcana contains 22 cards and generally represents major themes, circumstances, influences, and stages of development. The Minor Arcana contains 56 cards divided into four suits and is commonly used to examine more specific situations, activities, thoughts, emotions, and circumstances.
  Tarot can be used for questions about relationships, work, decisions, personal circumstances, future possibilities, and many other subjects.
  Different tarot decks may use different artwork and interpretations while following the basic structure of tarot.
  <h2>Rider-Waite-Smith Tarot</h2>
  The Rider-Waite-Smith system is one of the most widely recognized tarot traditions. Its illustrated Minor Arcana make it particularly accessible for visual interpretation and have influenced many modern tarot decks.
  If you are familiar with traditional tarot imagery, a Rider-Waite-Smith-based deck may be a good choice.
  <h2>Crowley / Thoth Tarot</h2>
  The Thoth Tarot, created by Aleister Crowley and illustrated by Lady Frieda Harris, uses a different system of imagery and symbolism from Rider-Waite-Smith.
  It incorporates ceremonial, astrological, elemental, numerological, and other esoteric correspondences.
  Clients who specifically prefer the Thoth tradition can request it.

  Oracle cards are not based on one standardized card structure.

Each oracle deck is created around its own subject, artwork, symbolism, and interpretation system. A deck might contain cards about relationships, animals, spirituality, personal development, mythology, astrology, nature, or another specific theme.

Oracle decks can contain different numbers of cards and may use written messages, keywords, illustrations, or symbolic images.

Because every oracle deck is different, the deck itself is an important part of the reading.

If you have a particular oracle deck you like, you can request it. If you do not have a preference, I can choose one based on your question.

Angel cards are generally a type of oracle card focused on angels, spiritual guidance, encouragement, protection, and related themes.

These decks vary considerably. Some emphasize specific angelic traditions, while others focus more broadly on messages of encouragement, spiritual reflection, and personal guidance.

Angel cards can be requested when you specifically want this type of imagery and subject matter included in your reading.

You do not need to follow a particular religious or spiritual tradition to request an angel-card reading.

Lenormand is a card system traditionally consisting of 36 cards.

The cards use recognizable symbols such as the Rider, Clover, Ship, House, Tree, Clouds, Heart, Ring, Key, and others.

Lenormand is generally read by considering the relationships between cards rather than interpreting every card independently. The meaning of one card can be modified or clarified by the cards next to it.

This makes Lenormand particularly useful for readings where the interaction between different people, circumstances, events, or influences is important.

Lenormand is structurally different from tarot, so a Lenormand reading may feel quite different from a tarot reading even when the same question is being asked.

Gypsy cards are another traditional style of fortune-telling cards associated with European cartomancy. They typically use straightforward pictorial symbols representing people, relationships, circumstances, events, emotions, opportunities, difficulties, and other areas of everyday life.

Unlike tarot, Gypsy cards do not follow the Major Arcana and Minor Arcana structure. Their imagery is generally more direct and situational, with individual cards often representing recognizable people, events, conditions, or circumstances.

Gypsy cards may be read individually or in combinations, with surrounding cards helping to establish context and provide additional information about the situation being examined.

The term Gypsy cards can refer to several different styles of traditional fortune-telling decks, so the artwork, number of cards, and specific meanings can vary depending on the deck.

If you specifically want a Lenormand or Gypsy-card reading, you can request it when booking your reading.

There are many different decks available within each modality.

Because there are too many decks in my collection to display an individual photograph of every one on this page, I will provide lists organized by category instead.

You can also search for the decks on Amazon if you would like to see their artwork or learn more about them.

The available deck lists will be organized into four categories:

<h2>Requesting a Specific Deck</h2>

If you would like a reading performed with a particular deck that is not listed, you are welcome to ask whether I have it.

I have a large collection of decks, and it is difficult to keep a completely accurate list of everything currently available.

If I do not have the deck you want, you can also suggest a specific deck for me to acquire.

A spread is the arrangement of cards used for a reading.

Each position in a spread has a specific purpose. For example, one position might represent the past while another represents the present or future. Larger spreads allow more aspects of a question to be examined.

You do not need to choose a spread. I can select one based on your question.

If you have a preferred spread, however, you can request it.

The spreads below are organized from the fewest cards to the greatest number of cards.

The one-card reading provides one focused answer or point of consideration.

<h3>Card 1 — Central Answer</h3>Represents the primary theme, influence, or information related to your question.

This is the simplest spread and is appropriate when you want a concise reading focused on one specific question.

This spread examines a situation across three time-related positions.

<h3>Card 1 — Past</h3>Represents past circumstances or influences that contributed to the current situation.

<h3>Card 2 — Present</h3>Represents the current circumstances, influences, and conditions surrounding the question.

<h3>Card 3 — Future</h3>Represents the likely direction of the situation based on the current circumstances.

This spread provides a straightforward overview without requiring a large number of cards.

This spread divides the month into four sections.

<h3>Card 1 — Beginning of the Month</h3>Represents the circumstances and primary themes at the beginning of the month.

<h3>Card 2 — Early Middle of the Month</h3>Represents developments occurring during the early-to-middle portion of the month.

<h3>Card 3 — Late Middle of the Month</h3>Represents developments and influences during the later middle portion of the month.

<h3>Card 4 — End of the Month</h3>Represents the circumstances and primary themes toward the end of the month.

This spread is designed to provide a general overview of the month rather than predict one specific event.

This spread examines four different areas of a situation using the traditional four elements.

<h3>Card 1 — Earth</h3>Represents practical matters, material circumstances, stability, finances, resources, and physical conditions.

<h3>Card 2 — Air</h3>Represents thoughts, communication, information, decisions, reasoning, and mental activity.

<h3>Card 3 — Fire</h3>Represents action, motivation, ambition, creativity, passion, and energy.

<h3>Card 4 — Water</h3>Represents emotions, relationships, intuition, sensitivity, and emotional circumstances.

This spread can be used to identify which areas of a situation are stable and which may require attention.

This spread is designed for questions where you want guidance about how to approach a situation.

<h3>Card 1 — Current Situation</h3>Represents the circumstances surrounding the question.

<h3>Card 2 — Main Challenge</h3>Represents the primary difficulty or obstacle.

<h3>Card 3 — Hidden or Overlooked Factor</h3>Represents information or an influence that may not currently be obvious.

<h3>Card 4 — Recommended Approach</h3>Represents an action, attitude, or approach worth considering.

<h3>Card 5 — Potential Result</h3>Represents the direction the situation may take if the current circumstances and recommended approach continue.

This spread examines the dynamics between two people.

It can be used for romantic relationships as well as friendships, family relationships, work relationships, or other interpersonal situations.

<h3>Card 1 — Your Position</h3>Represents your feelings, perspective, and role in the relationship.

<h3>Card 2 — Their Position</h3>Represents the other person's apparent feelings, perspective, and role.

<h3>Card 3 — What Connects You</h3>Represents the primary bond, attraction, shared interest, or circumstance connecting you.

<h3>Card 4 — Source of Conflict</h3>Represents a disagreement, obstacle, difference, or other source of tension.

<h3>Card 5 — What the Relationship Needs</h3>Represents something that may help improve, clarify, or strengthen the relationship.

<h3>Card 6 — Potential Direction</h3>Represents the direction the relationship may take based on its current dynamics.

This spread compares two different options or courses of action.Four cards are assigned to each choice.

<h2>Choice A</h2><h3>Card 1 — Current Situation</h3>Represents the circumstances surrounding Choice A.<h3>Card 2 — Advantages</h3>Represents potential benefits of Choice A.<h3>Card 3 — Challenges</h3>Represents potential difficulties associated with Choice A.<h3>Card 4 — Potential Direction</h3>Represents where Choice A may lead.

<h2>Choice B</h2><h3>Card 5 — Current Situation</h3>Represents the circumstances surrounding Choice B.<h3>Card 6 — Advantages</h3>Represents potential benefits of Choice B.<h3>Card 7 — Challenges</h3>Represents potential difficulties associated with Choice B.<h3>Card 8 — Potential Direction</h3>Represents where Choice B may lead.

The purpose of this spread is to compare the two options rather than simply label one as “right” and the other as “wrong.”

The Celtic Cross is a larger spread designed to examine a question from multiple perspectives.

Card 1 — Present Situation Represents the central circumstances surrounding the question.
Card 2 — Crossing Influence Represents an influence that is helping, challenging, or complicating the situation.
Card 3 — Foundation Represents the underlying circumstances upon which the situation is built.
Card 4 — Recent Past Represents a recent influence that continues to affect the situation.
Card 5 — Conscious Influence Represents what you are consciously thinking about, expecting, wanting, or working toward.
Card 6 — Near Future Represents developments that may occur in the near future.
Card 7 — Your Position Represents your attitude, role, or approach to the situation.
Card 8 — Outside Influences Represents other people or circumstances affecting the situation.
Card 9 — Hopes & Fears Represents expectations, concerns, desires, and fears connected to the question.
Card 10 — Potential Outcome Represents the direction the situation may take based on the influences shown throughout the spread.

The Twelve Card Yearly Forecast uses one card for each month of the year.

Card 1 — January Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding January.
Card 2 — February Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding February.
Card 3 — March Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding March.
Card 4 — April Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding April.
Card 5 — May Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding May.
Card 6 — June Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding June.
Card 7 — July Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding July.
Card 8 — August Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding August.
Card 9 — September Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding September.
Card 10 — October Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding October.
Card 11 — November Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding November.
Card 12 — December Represents the primary theme or circumstances surrounding December.

This spread provides a general month-by-month overview rather than a guarantee that specific events will occur during particular months.

Have a Specific Deck or Spread in Mind?

You are welcome to ask about a deck even if you do not see it listed on this page. My collection is large, and the list cannot always account for every deck I have available.

If you have a particular deck you would like used, ask me.

If I do not currently have it, you can also suggest a deck for me to acquire.

If you have a favorite spread that is not listed here, you can ask about that as well. I can let you know whether it is something I currently offer or whether another spread would be better suited to your question.

<!-- ASTROLOGY REPORTS CONTENT -->

<section class="content-section" data-section="astrology" hidden>

<h1 class="sr-only">Astrology Reports</h1>

<article class="article-copy astrology-copy">

Astrology reports are detailed, individually prepared interpretations of an astrological chart. A chart is the astronomical map calculated for a particular date, time, and place; the report is the process of actually interpreting that map and putting the different pieces together into something understandable.

An astrology chart contains considerably more information than a Sun sign or a short horoscope. The positions of the planets, the signs they occupy, the houses they fall into, the angles of the chart, and the geometric relationships between planets all contribute to the interpretation. The purpose of a full report is to examine those pieces together rather than reducing someone to a few generic descriptions.

The sample below shows what that means visually:

The large circular wheel is the actual astrological chart. Around the outside is the zodiac, divided into the twelve signs. Inside it are the twelve houses, numbered 1 through 12. The planetary glyphs are positioned according to their actual calculated locations at the specified birth time and place. The colored lines crossing the center represent aspects—the angular relationships between planets and other important points.

The chart is not merely decorative. It is the map from which the written interpretation is developed.

For example, the sample identifies the Sun at 17°22' Sagittarius, the Moon at 4°32' Aries, Mercury at 29°37' Scorpio, Venus at 9°18' Scorpio, Mars at 9°18' Pisces, Jupiter at 14°36' Pisces, Saturn at 12°48' Sagittarius, Uranus at 22°15' Sagittarius, Neptune at 4°51' Capricorn, Pluto at 8°48' Scorpio, the North Node at 17°40' Aries, and Chiron at 18°41' Gemini.

Those positions do not exist independently of one another. The interpretation asks questions such as: What houses do those planets occupy? Which planets are making close aspects to one another? Which planets are connected to the Ascendant or Midheaven? Are there concentrations in particular signs or houses? Which configurations repeat or reinforce the same theme?

The center of the chart also identifies the four major angles: the Ascendant, Descendant, Midheaven, and Imum Coeli. In the sample, the Ascendant is 18°44' Aries, the Descendant is 18°44' Libra, the Midheaven is 9°42' Capricorn, and the Imum Coeli is 9°42' Cancer.

The houses and signs are then listed separately so that the exact house structure can be read without having to estimate it from the wheel. The sample shows Aries on the 1st House, Taurus on the 2nd, Gemini on the 3rd, Cancer on the 4th, Leo on the 5th, Virgo on the 6th, Libra on the 7th, Scorpio on the 8th, Sagittarius on the 9th, Capricorn on the 10th, Aquarius on the 11th, and Pisces on the 12th.

The chart also includes the underlying chart data: the name, birth date, birth time, birth location, time zone, and whether Daylight Saving Time was observed. It records the current date, time, and location when those are relevant to the calculation. That information is important because astrology calculations depend upon an exact moment and geographical location.

At the bottom is an aspect list. This translates the geometric relationships visible as lines inside the wheel into readable terms—for example, a sextile between Chiron and the Ascendant, a square between the Moon and Neptune, a conjunction involving Venus and Pluto, a trine involving Mars and the Midheaven, or an opposition involving the Sun and Chiron. The aspect list allows the written report to examine those relationships precisely rather than relying on visual estimation.

This is the kind of information that the written report works from. The finished report takes the raw astronomical calculations and interprets them in context.

A free automated astrology website might see “Moon in Aries” and retrieve a paragraph about Moon in Aries. It may then see “Venus in Scorpio” and retrieve another paragraph about Venus in Scorpio. Another person with exactly those placements could receive essentially the same paragraphs.

That is not how these reports are written.

Each report is individually developed from the actual chart being examined. The placements are considered in relation to the rest of the horoscope, including houses, angles, aspects, planetary relationships, chart emphasis, and other relevant factors. The interpretation is therefore specific to the individual chart rather than being assembled from a collection of prewritten paragraphs.

The reports are also substantial visual documents. They can consist of many pages combining written interpretation, astrology charts, diagrams, illustrations, and other artwork. Some pages are designed as complete visual pieces that can be suitable for framing. The visual material is integrated with the astrology rather than being added simply to make an otherwise ordinary text document look attractive.

Some of the artwork is created with AI assistance. The astrological analysis itself is individually interpreted and written by a real astrologer. The reports are not produced by an automated horoscope generator, and they are not intended to be vague, interchangeable descriptions that could apply to virtually anyone. The difference comes from the amount of individual interpretation involved.

<h2>Principal Chart Symbols</h2>

A simple key to the principal symbols used throughout the charts is:

<ul class="symbol-key">☉ Sun — identity, vitality, self-expression☾ Moon — emotions, instincts, inner life☿ Mercury — thought, communication, perception♀ Venus — affection, attraction, values, aesthetics♂ Mars — action, desire, assertion, drive♃ Jupiter — expansion, growth, belief, opportunity♄ Saturn — responsibility, structure, limitation, discipline♅ Uranus — disruption, independence, innovation, change♆ Neptune — imagination, spirituality, ideals, dissolution♇ Pluto — transformation, power, intensity, regeneration♊ North Node — developmental direction and evolutionary themes♋ South Node — established patterns and familiar tendencies♌ Chiron — vulnerability, wounding, teaching and healing

<h2>The Twelve Zodiac Signs</h2>

<ul class="symbol-key">♈ Aries — fire, cardinal♉ Taurus — earth, fixed♊ Gemini — air, mutable♋ Cancer — water, cardinal♌ Leo — fire, fixed♍ Virgo — earth, mutable♎ Libra — air, cardinal♏ Scorpio — water, fixed♐ Sagittarius — fire, mutable♑ Capricorn — earth, cardinal♒ Aquarius — air, fixed♓ Pisces — water, mutable

<h2>The Four Primary Chart Angles</h2>

<ul class="symbol-key">ASC — Ascendant, the eastern horizon and beginning of the 1st HouseDSC — Descendant, opposite the

Ascendant and associated with the 7th House

- MC — Midheaven, the highest point of the chart and beginning of the 10th House
- IC — Imum Coeli, opposite the Midheaven and associated with the 4th House

Common Aspect Symbols

- Conjunction — 0°
- Sextile — 60°
- Square — 90°
- Trine — 120°
- Opposition — 180°

The exact symbols may vary slightly depending upon the chart software or typeface being used, but these are the basic glyphs and relationships encountered throughout the reports.

Preparation, Delivery, and Required Information

Orders are delivered as PDF files by email. Because these are individually written and designed reports rather than instant automated products, they require time to prepare. Standard reports require a minimum of approximately 3–7 days for delivery. The larger reports can require approximately 10 days.

The complete compatibility report is particularly extensive. It is effectively the equivalent of several reports combined because it requires a natal analysis for Person A, a natal analysis for Person B, a synastry chart comparing the two people, and a composite chart representing the relationship itself. Each layer must be interpreted in detail before the larger relationship picture can be assembled.

Birth time rectification can potentially take even longer. When someone does not know their exact birth time, there is no reliable time to simply enter into a chart calculator. Instead, the process works backward from the person's life history. Important events are collected and compared against possible birth times to determine which chart produces the strongest correspondence.

A rectification may therefore involve a lengthy interview through Zoom or an extended exchange through email, sometimes requiring several rounds of questions and responses. The amount of information needed varies from person to person.

When ordering a report requiring a natal chart, you will need to provide your birth date, birth time, and birthplace by city, state/province, and country, as well as the applicable time zone and whether Daylight Saving Time was being observed, if known.

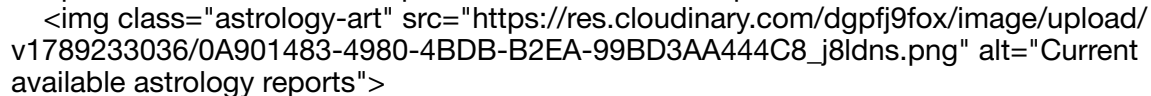

This matters because the precise time and location determine the astronomical calculations used to construct the horoscope. A difference in birth time can change the Ascendant and house cusps, and can change the interpretation of planets located near important boundaries.

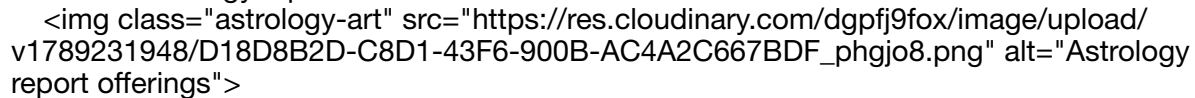

For reports involving current planetary positions, horary astrology, transits, or other time-sensitive calculations, you will also need to provide the current date, current time, and current location by city, state/province, and country, along with the applicable time zone. The exact moment and location can determine the chart being calculated.

A birth time rectification is specifically intended for someone who does not know their exact birth time, has only an approximate time, or suspects that their recorded birth time may be incorrect. The purpose is to determine the most plausible birth time through comparison with significant events in the person's actual life.

Astrology report offerings

Free downloadable samples of each individual product will also be made available soon. These samples will allow prospective clients to actually examine the type of finished report associated with each service before deciding whether to purchase one. The intention is to make it possible to see what the reports contain and what the finished PDF looks like ahead of time rather than asking someone to purchase a product they have never seen.

Because these reports require many hours of individual work spread across several days, the current policy generally does not allow returns or refunds once a report has been completed and delivered. The same basic principle applies to the card-reading services.

The reason for the policy is the nature of the work itself. Once a personalized reading or report has been completed, the hours spent researching, calculating, interpreting, writing, editing, and preparing the finished document cannot be recovered. Once the finished PDF has been sent, there is also no practical way to retrieve the time invested or undo the delivery of the completed copy. The work is therefore treated as a completed personalized service rather than a conventional physical product that can simply be returned.

Providing free samples ahead of purchase is intended to give people an opportunity to examine the work before ordering and make an informed decision about whether the service is appropriate for them.

This is the natal chart format used as a foundation for the written interpretations. The planetary table identifies the exact zodiacal position of each planet and point. The angles establish the four major directional points of the horoscope. The houses show where the signs and planets fall in the areas of life represented by the twelve houses. The aspect list identifies the principal geometric relationships between the chart's components.

The report uses all of this information together. A planet is not interpreted solely because it occupies a particular sign. Its house placement, aspects, relationship to the chart ruler and angles, and position within the larger pattern are also considered.

Birth time rectification examines the possibility that the recorded or remembered birth time is inaccurate. Significant events are used as reference points while different possible birth times are tested against the resulting chart structure.

Because the astrologer needs actual biographical information to do this properly, rectification is more collaborative than most of the other reports. The process may require an interview over Zoom or multiple rounds of correspondence by email.

The six-month transit analysis follows the movement of the planets across a six-month period and examines how those movements interact with the natal chart.

The full natal interpretation examines the birth chart as an interconnected system.

It considers the planets, signs, houses, angles, aspects, chart ruler, concentrations of planetary energy, elemental and modal patterns, and significant configurations. The

interpretation is built around how those factors interact rather than simply providing a separate paragraph for every placement.

Horary astrology is based on the chart for the moment a question is asked. Instead of beginning with a birth chart, the analysis begins with the time and location of the question.

The relevant houses and planetary signifiers are identified, and their conditions and relationships are examined in relation to the specific question. Because the moment matters, the exact date, time, and location are required.

A progressed chart examines symbolic development within the natal horoscope over time. Progressions can be used to study longer-term changes in identity, emotional orientation, priorities, relationships, motivation, and other areas of personal development.

The progressed chart is interpreted alongside the natal chart so that changes can be understood against the person's original astrological structure.

The conception timing analysis examines astrological timing surrounding conception and the periods being investigated.

Accurate birth information and precise dates are particularly important for timing work. This is an astrological service and is not intended to diagnose fertility, predict a medical outcome, or replace medical fertility care.

The complete compatibility reading examines two individual charts and then examines the relationship between them.

Person A's natal chart is interpreted, followed by Person B's. The two charts are then compared through synastry, which examines how the planets and points in one person's chart interact with those in the other. A composite chart is then interpreted as a chart representing the relationship itself.

This is why the compatibility report requires considerably more work than a short compatibility reading. It is essentially several substantial analyses brought together into one finished report and may require approximately 10 days for completion.

The cosmic blueprint brings the principal components of a natal horoscope together into a broad interpretation of the chart's overall structure.

Rather than concentrating on one planet or one area of life, it examines recurring patterns, planetary emphasis, houses, signs, angles, aspects, strengths, tensions, and larger themes that emerge when the horoscope is viewed as a whole.

The twin flame and soul mate markers assessment is an optional relationship add-on. It examines multiple astrological indicators traditionally associated with unusually intense, significant, or compelling connections.

The interpretation does not depend upon one particular aspect being labeled a “twin flame” indicator. The relevant interactions are examined together to determine what the overall relationship charts actually show.

The starseed markers assessment is an optional add-on examining astrological placements and patterns that modern esoteric astrology associates with starseed or extraterrestrial/spiritual themes.

These concepts belong to an esoteric astrological framework and cannot scientifically establish extraterrestrial ancestry or origin. The purpose of the report is to examine the relevant symbolism within the individual’s chart and explain how those patterns interact with the rest of the horoscope.

The additional 50-asteroid comprehensive analysis expands the chart beyond the traditional planets and major points.

The selected bodies cover themes including relationships, sexuality, motherhood, creativity, independence, justice, transformation, healing, ambition, vulnerability, devotion, luck, conflict, artistic expression, persistence, and recurring life patterns.

The 50 bodies included are:

The asteroid analysis does not assume that every placement deserves equal weight. Particular attention can be given to asteroids forming close aspects to the Sun, Moon, Ascendant, Midheaven, personal planets, chart ruler, or other significant points. This keeps the analysis focused on asteroids that actually contribute something meaningful to the individual chart.

For technical accuracy, Chiron is classified astronomically as a centaur/minor planet rather than an asteroid. It is included because of its established role in modern astrological interpretation; the product is therefore more precisely understood as an analysis of 50 selected asteroids and minor bodies.

Once a report has been completed, an optional post-report appointment can be scheduled for an additional fee. The appointment can take place over Zoom or by phone and provides an opportunity to go through the finished report together, ask questions, and discuss sections that deserve further explanation.

The reports are intentionally created as individual works rather than as instant automated products. The sample pages are intended to make that distinction visible: the chart itself is only the beginning. The finished report takes the astronomical data, examines the relationships within it, and turns that information into a personalized written and visual interpretation.
